7.	Input	Open source intelligence reveals that the Music & Arts Society is organizing a charity concert titled 'Strings of Hope' on December 20, 2025 at the Chowdiah Memorial Hall, Bengaluru. The concert aims to raise funds for underprivileged children's education. Divya Nair and Neha Sharma are co-organizing the event. The concert lineup has been built from talent nurtured through the weekly workshops (ref: TMS-2025-0789). Arjun Nair will lead a fusion band performance, Meera Patel and Lakshmi Reddy will perform a classical dance medley, and Anjali Menon will present a theatrical piece on children's rights. The Community Service Group, coordinated by Sunita Gupta, is partnering on the event - Poornima Hegde and Kavita Joshi are coordinating with orphanages and NGOs in Bengaluru including Sparsha Trust and Sneha Orphanage. The Book Reading Club is contributing by setting up a book donation stall. Varun Malhotra is handling production and Swati Deshpande is designing promotional materials. Tickets are priced at Rs. 500 and Rs. 1000. All proceeds will go to the Sparsha Trust for children's education programs.
